

Yukon Husky Tour

5 days – private cabin

A range of tours offering guests an opportunity to start at the basics and work up to more challenging adventures as their skill levels increase. Previous dog sledding experience is not necessary. These tours are designed for beginners or guests who have been mushing before and want to try somewhere new.

The cabin-based trips offer a home-style welcome and full instruction for guests who like to start small and progress at their own rate. Guests start right at the beginning, learning how to harness the dogs and drive a dog team, first on easy trails, then progressing to more challenging trails as their skills increase.

Flying from the UK you will need to fly out the day before and overnight in Vancouver and fly up mid morning – or fly direct to Whitehorse arriving late for an overnight in Whitehorse (not included but can be pre-booked for £80 a room).

Day 1:

Guests are picked up in Whitehorse at hotel or airport, shop for any last minute things and sort out clothing hire at outfitters. We then drive about 45 minutes out towards the husky kennels where you meet the dog teams. You will receive basic instruction on how to drive a dog sled, before mushing a small dog team on an easy trail across a lake to your cabin. After unhooking the dogs and having a hot lunch, there is an afternoon "sled school" where you will learn and practice techniques for driving a dog sled on forest and hill trails.

Day 2:

After breakfast we set off with our dog teams on a spectacular forest and hill trails overlooking the lake. Lunch is a campfire cook-out. Return to the home cabins for dinner and overnight.

Days 3 & 4:

You will continue to build a rapport with your dogs, improve your mushing skills, and explore some beautiful new country by dog team, stopping for campfire cook-outs or picnic lunches part-way. About 5 to 6 hours per day on the trail. (Note: time estimates are approximate and depend on trail conditions.)

There is also time during the day for guests to enjoy their cabin or take a little walk. In the evenings, we meet around the dining room table, or guests can watch some of the dog mushing videos in our collection, spend time at their own cabin, or assist with the evening dog feeding....#

Day 5:

We hook up the dog teams one last time to mush back across the lake to meet the truck/van that takes you back to Whitehorse around lunch time early afternoon.
